YOUR WAY TO THE WORLD

Issue #3

December, 17th 2021

The Center for Entrepreneurial Leadership and Transformational Change (CELTC)

Dear Evergreen community,

As we finish up our fall quarter, I wish the entire Evergreen community much relaxation, joy, and hope during our winter break. Before we depart on break, however, we would like to share some news of upcoming CELTC courses available during our winter quarter, as well as highlight some wonderful student work.

In this newsletter, you will find an incredible piece from our very own student worker, Lo Fontaine. We are so lucky to have Lo as part of our team, and so inspired to see the work of this passionate student. Thank you for sharing this amazing work with our community, Lo!

We are excited to announce two new CELTC courses for the winter 2022 quarter: 1) Introduction to Sustainability and Business and 2) Introduction to Professional Skills. For Evergreen faculty, if you have group projects included in your winter quarter curriculum, please consider including our "Introduction to Professional Skills" (2 credits) course to help support your students' groupwork and group process. You can find more information about this course below.

We are also currently looking for staff, faculty, students, and community members to sit on our CELTC advisory board. This is an opportunity to keep up to date on CELTC programming, as well as shape future programming. If you are interested, please contact Tamsin Fouchier (tamsin.fouchier@evergreen.edu).

Finally, the CELTC is continuing to support the development of business and entrepreneurship curriculum throughout the college. In particular, we look forward to the continued development of certificate options in the new year, as well as bringing our work into our strong prison education initiatives. For more information on upcoming work, please visit our website: <https://sites.evergreen.edu/celtc/annual-reports/>, where you can read about it in our first annual report.

May this break be a time of renewal for all as we wish our community a happy new year,

Tamsin Fouchier, CELTC Director
