 Tacoma Analysis

Do you plan to focus on a particular field of study or discipline at Evergreen? If yes, please describe the field of study or discipline you plan to focus on:

Respondents who indicated that they planned to focus on a particular field of study or discipline at Evergreen were asked what field or discipline they plan to focus on. Responses to this question were coded into Classification of Instructional Program (CIP) 2000 codes. More than half of the Tacoma respondents who said that they planned to focus responded that they planned to study in a field related to public administration and social service professions. More than one-quarter (27.9%) wrote in a field of study related to Education. Listed in the table below are the number and percentage of respondents who wrote in a field of study within each of the CIP categories.
